Jason is an active Real Estate Syndicator and Real Estate Investor. Jason founded Yarusi Holdings, a multifamily investment firm with over 450 units under management, in 2016. The firm repositions properties through operational efficiencies, moderate to extensive renovations and complete rebranding.

Jason also Hosts The Real Estate Foundation. A podcast serving to help Real Estate Investors take massive action through learning from the steps and missteps many industry pros have taken along the way.

Jason is founder of the New Jersey Multifamily Foundation Club with over 2,000 members that focuses on Real Estate Syndication and Multifamily Investing.

Jason has started and exited multiple business in the past 15 years and his family construction business has a niche industry position in raising and moving structures. The company has elevated over 2,000 homes in the last 7 years alone.

Beyond real estate Jason is an avid runner and crossfitter with his longest run to date at 51 miles.
